

In the Eastwood Symphonic, Kyle Eastwood, his jazz quintet, and a symphony orchestra perform 13 soundtracks from my film library. Kyle took some of the most memorable songs, themes, and master collaborations and merged classical and jazz together to salute the pictures' original directors, composers, arrangers, and conductors. We were honored to have arrangements and baton by the great Gast Waltzing. It is truly a sight to see, and we hope you enjoy the show. - C.E.
