

The von Trapps June 2012

The Sound of Music captured the hearts of millions when the film debuted in 1965. Now, forty years later, the von Trapp's family legacy is born anew. Meet Sofia, Melanie, Amanda, and Justin von Trapp. They are the great-grandchildren of Captain von Trapp, father of the famous singing family whose story captivated the world in the musical The Sound of Music.

The siblings have continued the tradition of the family's exceptional musical gift and love of singing, sharing songs and heart-warming family stories of life before and after coming to America. The von Trapp's perform a variety of folk and classical songs from various European and American traditions, as well as timeless pieces from The Sound of Music.

Their effervescent voices mesh the way only a family's can, and musicians and audiences from all over the world recognize the family's beautiful harmonic blend and pristine tone. As a result, they are increasingly in demand as symphony and pops orchestra guest artists.

They have performed with such major orchestras as Boston Pops, Atlanta, Detroit, Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Toronto, as well as repeated performances with the Cincinnati Pops, Atlanta and Indianapolis Symphonies to name a few.

Sell out crowds have carried them into some of the world's most prestigious theaters, including a date at the Sydney Opera House on a world tour that took them to Europe, Canada, Africa, Australia, New Zealand, Japan and Korea and the Philippines. The foursome have extensively toured the U.S.A and a list of all their dates can be seen on their website at www.vontrappchildren.com.

They have also performed around the globe for a variety of media, including appearances on Today (NBC), The Oprah Winfrey Show, The View (ABC), Fox and Friends (Fox News), Good Morning America (ABC), CBS Sunday Morning, The Grand Ole Opry (GAC), The 700 Club (CBN), Inside Edition, QVC Network, and numerous top 20 market television morning and news shows overseas.

Print coverage has included features in Hello Magazine (London), Korea Tatler (Korea), Hachette Fujingaho (Japan), Parade, People, The New York Times, LIFE, Good Housekeeping, Time for Kids, Associated Press, Reuters and dozens of local newspapers around the world.

The quartet have sung for a number of dignitaries and heads of states around the world including the President of Austria, the President of the Rwanda, First Lady Laura Bush, and Prime Minister Gordon Brown.

The von Trapp's have recorded over six albums and their latest recording is entitled A Cappella. The album is full of beautiful A cappella arrangements such as Edelweiss, Amazing Grace, and Star of The County Down. They have also released a performance DVD featuring 80 minutes of music including Sound of Music songs, and stories passed down from the older generation of von Trapp's.
